

CENTER FOR RESEARCH ON RACE & ETHNICITY
IN SOCIETY

With

The Latino Studies Program

invites you to the

2nd César E. Chávez Undergraduate Research Symposium in Latino Studies

March 6-7, 2014

Keynote Address: Solimar Otero, Ph.D. | Louisiana State University

Title: “Borderlands and Crossroads: Transnational Connections in Afrolatina/o Spiritualities”

Date: Thursday, March 6

Location: Oak Room, IMU 5pm-7pm

Undergraduate Symposium – Panels and Posters

Date: Friday, March 7, 9am-5pm

Location: Oak Room, IMU

This symposium honors the legacy of César E. Chávez, the civil rights leader who fought for the rights and dignity of Latina/o workers, immigrants, and families.

We encourage undergraduate interdisciplinary research in Latino Studies and invite the general public to engage in conversations about Latina/o lived experiences.

Also sponsored by:

University Graduate School, College Office for Undergraduate Education,

Department of Folklore & Ethnomusicology, Department of History,

African American & African Diaspora Studies,

La Casa (Latino Cultural Center), Center for Latin American & Caribbean Studies (CLACS)